

Biography

Darghouth Mohamed Aziz, Doctorate in Veterinary Medicine from the National School of Veterinary Medicine of Sidi Thabet, Certificate of Advanced Studies in Immunology from the Institute Pasteur of Tunis, Tunisia, Ph.D. from the Institut National Polytechnic of Toulouse, France, University Hospital Professor in Veterinary Parasitology at the National School of Veterinary Medicine of Sidi Thabet, Tunisia. Academic research areas: ticks and tick-borne diseases, epidemiology and control of major parasitic diseases in Tunisia. Scientific publications: over 95 articles in impacted and indexed journals, h-index > 30. Roles held: Director of a research laboratory funded by the Ministry of Higher education and Scientific Research, Tunisia (2002-12), director of the National School of Veterinary Medicine of Sidi Thabet, Tunisia (2011-12), president of the Institution of Agricultural Research and Higher Education, Tunisia (2012-17), director of the National Observatory for Science and Technology of the Ministry of Higher education and Scientific Research, Tunisia (2020-21), member of the National Committee for Scientific Research Activities Evaluation, Tunisia (Since 2020). Cross-cutting fields of activity: technology transfer, strategic development in higher education and science and technology domains (decadal strategy of the Institution of Agricultural Research and Higher Education, state strategy project in Science, Technology and Innovation, decadal strategy of the National School of Veterinary Medicine of Sidi Thabet, decadal strategy of the Association of Agricultural Research Institutions in the Middle East and North Africa), accreditation and quality management in higher education. Activities in NGOs: member of the board of the National Association of Veterinarians of Tunisia (Various roles from 1985 to 2006), member of the National Council of the Order of Veterinarians of Tunisia (Various roles from 2006 to 2015), founding member of the Maghreb Veterinary Union, member of the executive committee of the "International Consortium on Ticks and Tick-borne Diseases" network (2002-2010), President of the Association of Agricultural Research Institutions in the Middle East and North Africa (2014-18).